Customer Reviews

I bought the Adventure bible for my son, looked at the measurements of that bible and ordered this case based on those measurements. It swims in this case. The measurements are not accurate at all.

The actual size of this Bible cover is 10.6 x 8 x 1.7 inches for the MEDIUM!! Be very careful and use the dimensions under "Product Information" and NOT the ones published near the picture. Other than that this is a good cover for the money.

I am very happy with this product. It is durable and offers great protection. It is a nice plain case, which is very hard to find, and it works very well in the rain. It also makes a great gift and I am considering buying more for friends and family.

I bought this cover for a gentleman who was using an Inductive Bible and it was pretty true to the measurements as quoted, just a bit larger but not so much that it was an issue. It is a great cover and you can't beat the price, good quality I would recommend it to and one looking for a plain jacket .

as well as lightweight; it even has pockets for pens, etc. inside. It is large enough for my HCSB study Bible, and that book is large!

Bought one for my son. It's ok, but it's starting to rip around the seams a little bit already after just a couple months of use. Now that may be because he tries to cram so much into it, but still seems like it should have held up better over such a short time frame.

Came on time. Seems like good quality. I guess time will tell. The dimensions seem a little bigger than listed because it swallowed the bible I got to go in it and I thought they were going to be just around the same size. The material is pretty heavy duty.

Was disappointed that this was SO HUGE! Product description doesn't match what so ever. I wish they would adjust the measurements in their description so not so many people are doing the same thing I am now. Wanted to love it but you could honestly make a whole other cover with the extra material from this bag. I returned mine..... Sad....
