Customer Reviews

This story is not as imaginative as I hoped. Yes, it follows the classic "We're going on a bear hunt" synopsis, but I was hoping that it would slightly vary from that. Still, it is a cute story and my 4yr old likes it.

I used this in my classroom when I taught preschoolers and it was a hit. I used it with my 2 year old daughter and it was a hit again. I love the different tree variety vocabulary in the story and the colors are highlighted perfectly. With added repetition of some of the action verbs, this becomes a very fun action-packed read along.

The children love this book!! They compare it with We're Going on a Bear Hunt. The children listen and joined in with the story. 2 thumbs up GREAT BOOK. Wonderful pictures!!

My students LOVE "Going on a Bear Hunt" which was the original reason I purchased this book (same format). We had a lot of fun reading it during our "Fall" theme weeks at school. A good addition to any teacher's library.

This is a wonderful resource in my preschool classroom! I love taking our class on a leaf hunt and then coming back and pressing the leaves or placing them between pieces of contact paper. We then use this lovely book to identify the types of leaves we've found!

I love, LOVE getting books for my kids! is much more cost effective than their Scholastic book clubs, and this book was another great find here! It follows the same theme as "We're Going on a Bear Hunt" that my daughter read in Pre-school, (and they did a whole event/theme/song around it, so it stayed in her memory and ours!), so this was a fun find for Fall reading. My 5 year old loved reading it with me, and I know her little brother will eventually, too!

This is a great book for the fall. It patterns itself after the children's activity "Going on a Bear Hunt". I read it to my child's 3 and 4 year old class - it received rave reviews!

I originally purchased this book for the season. It later found out. Not only does it have an awesome rhythm but also teaches a few names of trees. What a fun book to act out!
